September 2026 Price Changes for Bosch Power Tools - Confidential Information 26 June 2026

Dear valued partner,

We are writing to provide an important update regarding our price lists, which will take effect on September 1, 2026.

The global supply chain continues to experience significant volatility. This has led to unprecedented cost increases for essential raw materials in our industry, including copper, aluminium, lithium, and tungsten carbide.

While we have made every effort to absorb these rising costs, we must now implement a weighted price increase of 3.3% on Tools & Spare Parts and 5.2% on Accessories (including Hand Tools), effective September 1, 2026. Please note that this is a weighted average, and we have worked to minimise or avoid increases on specific items where possible.

Your dedicated sales contact will provide you with the updated SKU-level price files before the end of July 2026 to ensure a smooth transition for your business. Should you have any questions, they will be your best resource.

This was a difficult but necessary decision driven by the current global economic landscape. We deeply value our partnership and thank you for your continued trust and cooperation. We remain committed to supporting your business and look forward to our shared success.

Yours sincerely,

Steve Neumann
